FLOODS IN COCHIN CHINA Standing Crops Destroyed.

Destructive floods, the like of which had | not been seen for 35 years, have destroyed the standing crops in the upper reaches of the valley in the Mekong River in Cochin-China. There are fears that the floods may damage the crops in the low-lying districts of the Colony in the Mekong valley. Travellers from the North of Siam state that heavy rainfalls there have been few and far between and it is only now the water is beginning to rise to the usual high water limits.

> HUNTERS OF BIRDS OF PARADISE.

The authorities in German New Guine complain of the frichisions of bird-hunter from North Dutch New Guinea. Thes trespassers are Malays on the hunt for Birds of Paradise.

For years they have given trouble, but this year, they have come in greater num bers (about sixty) and have gone further nland in search of fresh hunting grounds The natives resent their depredation bitterly, and measures have been taken drive them out of German territory. The Dutch Government is blamed for not bring. | Woodlark ing North Netherlands New Guinea under regular government.

The absence of a strong and brisk demand from the country is alone responsible for the

Adsetts attempted to decrive the Court by saying that he was held by a member of the local police department while the handcuffs of the naval authorities were replaced by those of the Manila authorities, but after a short, severe cross-examination by Prosecuting Attorney George the prisoner suddenly got a bad lapse of memory. Three witnesses were examined and the steamship tickets purchased by Adsetts under the name of Jones, for himself and the Dayton woman were identified and put in evidence, as well as the ticket purchased by Gertrude Dayton for transportation to Detectives Sullivan and Perkins of the Hongkong secret service bureau did not arrivo yesterday as expected but will probably be able to give testimony at to-day's session, which was adjourned from yesterday until 8 o'clock this morning.

this morning at eight o'clock. Louis Heymann was then called and estifield that he had met Adsetts together with Miss Dayton at the Pasay Country

C. W. O'Brien, who was called next, said that he had been introduced to Adsetts as after the time for such an appeal had Mr. Anderson. The manager of the Hotel Francia was called and tostified that Adsetts and Gertrude Dayton were guests of the hotel prior to their leaving for Hongkong. This concluded the testimony that can be taken until the arrival of the Hongkong detectives, who are expected to-day.

Evidence from Hongkong.

The "Manila American" of the 20th says The principal feature in the Adsetts extradition hearing yesterday was the arrival of Detective Ed. O'Sullivan, of the police department of Hongkong, armed with a stock of depositions and other documents in relation to the murder of Gerbrude Dayton at Hougkong. Detective O'Sullivan is accompanied by Detective Perkins, Ramasamy Soonderman, clerk of the Hongkong Hotel, and J. Oxberry, runner for the hotel, who are important witnesses in the case.

Sullivan took the stand and testified election took place Sir Liang, recently that he had been a member of the police Minister to the United States, was the department at Hongkong for about twelve third on the list. Miss. Dayton and Adsetts together as late as four o'clock in the morning of August 4 Sullivan testified that when the trunk was opened at the morgue at Kowloon he saw that the body had been jammed down tightly and that the knees were upward, that a woman's belt was bound tightly around the neck the ends of which had been wound around a tooth brush by means of which a stronger grip could be had. There were also two towels in the trunk bearing the mark of the Hongkong Hotel. Other articles found contained the name

J. A. Oxberry, runner for the Hongkong Hotel, took the stand and positively identified Adsetts as the man he escorted from the s.s. Eastern to the Hongkong hotel and saw him register as Mr and Mrs. W. H. Jones. Jones was accompanied by tall blonde woman and they were assigned

Mr R. Soondermann, clerk of the Hongkong Hotel, was next examined and he positively identified Adsetts as the man who registered at the Hongkong Hotel with a woman as Mr W. H. Jones to whom he had assigned room No. 184. The clerk also testified that Adsetts had brought the trunk down from his room in the elevator and had two coolies outside the hotel carry it away. He also identified a coat and some clothing found in the room at the hotel as that belonging to Adsetts.

Depositions of the sampan man who carried the trunk to the ship Monteagle and also that of the baggage clerk aboard the vessel described the man who brought the applause.) I will now go on with the trunk, even to his gold teeth.

Prosecuting Attorney George then offered the proceedings of the consular court at Chefoo for the purpose of showing that the jewelry, postal orders and other property. found on the prisoner were taken from him by United States Fowler at Chefoo and also for the purpose of showing that he had fled from Hongkong and that he had been arrested at Chefoo. This being objected to, the court took the matter under advisement until this morning in order to examine the authorities. The government announced its evidence closed and notified the accused that if he wished to offer any evidence he must have his witnesses ready at 10 o'clock this for His Excellency, the ear-splitting "tiger" "Manila Cablenews," of the 20th

The prisoner was in better spirits yesterday than any day since his arrival, and wore a collar and black string tie, making decided change for the better in his honoured style.

His good spirits are attributed to the assurances of his attorneys who claim that if he is sent to Hongkong at all it will not carried out. There were only two be until after the supreme court of the United States passes on the case, which, as soon as he reaches Hongkong his time on this earth will be short.

The Hongkong authorities have selected the men to conduct the prisoner back to China, and it is said that no two better men are in the service. Sergeant Sullivan has been on the police force of Hongkong over twelve years and has an excellent record. Perkins the other detective is also good man. When asked if he familiar with the threats Adsetts had made he replied that he was, and said, whipped him once in a fight, and am able | 52 secs. to repeat the feat if necessary." Detective

Perkins who has a prize-ring career, referred to a boxing match he had with Adsetts Adsetts in less than three rounds. Detective Sullivan in speaking of the crime said it was one of the most coldblooded ever committed in Hongkong by a Lwhite man. He was present when the trunk was opened and described the posijammed in the trunk, lying on the right sede with the head pushed back almost under the back, the knees drawn up to the chin. The murder was committed by strangling the woman with her own waist band, the morderer using a hair-brush as a tourniquet to leake stronger the pressure of the band. This was still around the woman's neck when the body was found. Another proof of the awful manner in which the murderer committed the crime was in the fact that after the crime had

BURNED AT SEA. Loss of the Tafoo Maru.

News was received here this morning that the N. K. K. steamer Tafoo Maru, Captain Nagai, had been destroyed by fire at a point three miles this side of Chinkiang at about midnight last night says the "Shanghai Mercury" of Sept. 18. The vessel, which was in command of Captain Nagai, in place of Capt. Scott, who is hid up sick, was bound from Shanghai for Yangtzo ports with a full general caryo and a large passenger list, both Japanese and Chinese. All went well until the vessel was at a point three miles this side of Chinking, at about midnight last night, when the alarm of fire was raised, and flames and smoke burst out MHE THIRD ANNUAL GENERAL from the after part of the vessel where a large number of untive passengers were Captain Nagai at once headed the ship 6 P.M. for the shore and beached her in shallow water, while the crew set to work with a will to attempt to check the flames, which were beginning to spread forward. A panic set in among the passengers and many of them jumped overboard and were swent away and drowned.

was kept up by the crow armed with hand 5.15 P.M. gear. By dint of hard work the flames were kept contined to the after part of the ship and according to the latest advices, the fore part of the vessel and cargo are

The mails were all saved but wet and will be forwarded by the steamer Tachi While the vessel was burning, the C.M. steamer "Kinngyu" came on the scene and rendered what assistance she could and took shout two hundreds of the passengers off the burning vessel and carried them to Chinkiang.

In the meantime the fire had been seen at Chinking and the N.K.K agent with a number of steam bunches steamed hurriedly down river to the scene of the catastrophe and managed to reque a number of passengers.

Two Japanese passengers jumped overboard when the fire was discovered and were drowned and the chief compradors and about 200 native passengers were either burned or drowned.

The cause of the fire is at present anknown, but it is presumed that it was caused by some of the native passengers smoking and droppping lighted tobacco among the loose luggage.

The Tafoo Maru was originally the O. S. K. steamer Ta Hung Maru, built at Osaka, Japan, by the M. B. Dock and Engineering Company for the Yangtzo river trade, and was a vessel of 2,244 registered and 1,750 net tons, 270 feet in length, 40 feet beam and 11 feet 8 inches depth. She was burnt to the water's edge on January 27th, 1904, near Wuhu with a large loss of life. She was towed to Shanghai where she was sold to Messrs Farnham, Boyd and Co. who rebuilt the vessel and renamed her the Taton Maru and she was then resold to the O.S. K Co, which has since been amalgamated with the Nisshin Kisen Kaisla.
